

Wasp (Small)

Territory & Description:

These creatures are in every way like their miniscule cousins except that they weigh up to 40lbs.

Small wasps are most often found in remote fields, forests and mountain meadows. They prefer to eat nectar but will attack animals when defending their territory or to lay their eggs inside a living host.

Their poison is fast acting and quite deadly in sufficient doses. Any given wasp will have 1d4 doses of venom available.
